

Clockwise from top left: SMBSC's on-going research and data collection of agriculture practices ensures the best use of natural resources for every beet crop and harvest; Newly restored wetlands in Emmet Township; Containment pond holding water from factory operations for treatment; Wastewater irrigation produces hay for animal feed; Spray irrigation systems repurposing wastewater nutrients to grow hay.

Southern Minnesota Beet Sugar Cooperative Environmental Policy Statement

Southern Minnesota Beet Sugar Cooperative (SMBSC) actively seeks to surpass the compliance requirements of all applicable environmental laws, regulations and permits.

SMBSC strives to continuously improve its environmental awareness, performance of its obligations and stewardship of natural resources.

SMBSC integrates its environmental performance management activities with its other business management activities.

SMBSC communicates its environmental policy to its employees, shareholders and representatives.

SMBSC maintains an efficient management system to support this environmental policy.

